A Change Wanted.

Do the people desire a repetition of the disgraceful acts of another democratic administration? When Pierce left the presidential chair with so much unanimity, it was said that Mr. Buchanan, being an old statesman, who had served his country creditably, would restore the character and efficiency to the public service.

If the people had not believed that his administration would have been an improvement upon that of Pierce, he would have been beaten by thousands of votes. Now, how has it been?

We believe there is a greater desire on the part of the people of all parties to get rid of Mr. Buchanan than prevailed four years ago in relation to Pierce.

Without referring to the early policy of Mr. Buchanan in relation to Kansas, which perpetuated all that was base and mean of that of Pierce, it is sufficient to refer to his double-faced attitude upon the Lecompton constitution. By the testimony of Gov. Walker and the production of his letter, it has been proved that he was guilty of falsehood. There appears to be no loophole for the escape of the president; his friends offer no apology for his course of hypocrisy and deception towards Gov. Walker; the lie is acknowledged. So too, is the administration and the country disgraced by the developments made by the Coode committee in relation to the downright robbery to carry the Lecompton constitution through congress.

Wendell, the public priate, swears that he used thirty or forty thousand dollars of the profits of his printing contract for that purpose. Members of congress had a share of it. He was induced to do this because he expected to get other jobs which would be a great advantage to him. This he says was done with the knowledge of the president and cabinet!

We have another chapter to-day of those disgraceful developments. It has been proved that a job worth eighty thousand dollars was offered to Forney, by the Attorney General of the United States, if he would oppose the Lecompton constitution. This time the bribe was refused.

The two last democratic administrations have gone on from bad to worse, until it is past all endurance, yet this same party who have done all this, and who now do not condemn the guilty, ask the people to put confidence in them for another four years and elect another president who will probably run the same race as Pierce and Buchanan. Will it pay to try them again?

RECOMMENDATION.—These meetings have already been held in several localities and others are announced: one in Milwaukee next Wednesday, and another in Beloit next Saturday. The meeting in Beloit is called by the Lincoln and Hamlin club, just formed there, and Carl Schurz of this state and N. B. Judd of Chicago are expected among the speakers.

Heavy Frost in Frost New York.

There was a heavy frost in the vicinity of Albany, New York, on the night of the 20th.

The Evening Journal says that along the line of the Central road, on the morning of the 21st, the ground was almost as white as it had been a full of snow.

ION.

We place at the head of our columns this evening the nominations of the national convention. They will command the united support of all those who cherish a devotion to the principles of the republican party.

It would be idle to attempt to disguise the disappointment which the people of this state feel at the failure of the Chicago convention to nominate for president the candidate of their own state. But there can be no doubt that the nomination which was made is regarded as the very next choice of the republicans of the state of New York.

No other man beside their own favorite, so well represents the party in the great struggle now going on as Abraham Lincoln.—Albion Evening Journal, May 19.

We need not tell our readers that William H. Seward was our first choice, and that our labor has been that he should be the nominee of the Chicago convention for the presidency. That convention, however, has decided otherwise, and we bow to that decision, bow with greater cheerfulness, inasmuch as, although Mr. Seward, whom we consider the great representative of republican principles, has been defeated, we have in the nomination of Mr. Lincoln, a strong, laboring, and honest man, who has always labored consistently for its success, has, from the beginning, stood, and stands now, firm and square upon its national and conservative platform.—N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

WISCONSIN THE ICE-BOAT INVENTOR.—Mr. Wager began his intended tour by lecturing at McGregor, Iowa, Tuesday evening. He will visit all the towns along the Mississippi between Green Bay and St. Anthony, besides visiting Green Bay, Milwaukee, Madison, and other places in the northwest. He lectures at Prairie du Chien some evening this week. Mr. W. has with him a working model of the ice boat, by which he will explain the principles that ensure the success of his invention.

A NEGRO TRADING ESTABLISHMENT.—A very large building is in progress of erection on the northeast corner of Fifth and Myrtle streets. It is intended for a negro trading establishment, and is owned, we believe, by Mr. Wisconsin of this city. The walls are high and strong, so that there is but little opportunity afforded for escape from this peculiar institution when once placed in its confines. The location may be considered strange by some, and we should be inclined so to regard it had we not been informed that the object had in view in the erection of the "edifice," was less to make money by speculation in negroes than to decrease the value of adjoining property, for some purpose or other.—St. Louis Democrat.

School Excursion.

Yesterday morning about forty scholars from the High School, with Mr. Cass, their principal, and Commissioners Palmer and Armstrong, and late Commissioner Graham, started on an excursion to visit the schools of Beloit. A car had been secured for the purpose by the scholars, from the Milwaukee and Mississippi road, and at half-past 11 o'clock as merry as gay a party, as ever "rode on a rail," skirted over the prairies, which have recently been washed into their gayest and most beautiful attire.

The morning was as pleasant as a May morning could be. The conductors—Redington of the Milwaukee & Mississippi, and Powell of the Galena & Chicago road—were as affable and attentive as they know so well how to be; and Mr. Cass and the commissioners, were kindly reminded by their protégés, that it would be expected of them, that they should behave with becoming dignity and propriety, when they should arrive within the limits of our sister city.

An misunderstanding as to the hour when the excursionists would reach Beloit, non-plussed their friends there a little. But that was quickly forgotten; and in the impromptu welcome they received, the excursionists soon felt themselves as much at home, as if they were natives to the soil.

Mr. Tewksbury, the principal of the Beloit school, was unceasing in his efforts to make the visit of his friends a pleasant one, and with the varied exercises of the afternoon, he was completely successful. The compositions read by his pupils were very creditable indeed, and the declamations by the young gentlemen of the school, exhibited much taste and culture. At the request of Mr. T., three of the scholars from Janesville, pronounced declamations which they did in their usual creditable style. After the school exercises, Mr. Cass, on behalf of his own scholars, thanked the scholars of Beloit for their pleasant entertainment and invited them to visit us here.

It was stated on good authority that Jno. Appleton, assistant Secretary of state, regretting the misunderstanding which had occurred, renewing the invitation for another visit, and pledging a cordial and welcome reception.

Incidents of the Tornado in Cincinnati.

The Commercial, of Tuesday morning, in its article of the disasters of the preceding day, says :

The most terrifying incident of the tempest was the unroofing of the fourteenth district school house, and the consequent scenes among frenzied children. The teachers saw the storm gathering and closed the windows. The tornado swept madly up the valley and struck the west gable of the devoted house, which quivered like a leaf. At the instant, no apprehensions were entertained. But the tempest, as if madly driven, came back with a fearful rebound, and the bricks began to rattle, the shingles flew like halibutines, and in an instant the whole roof was lifted and swept from the walls and dashed to the opposite side of the street. Miss Rachael Medkirk, who taught the infant class in the west room of the upper story, meantime comprehended the danger, and with rare presence of mind and heroic courage, fled to the school-room door, closed it, and placed her back against it to keep the frightened children from plunging in headlong confusion down stairs. But while the brave girl sprang to her duty, was struck upon the head and face by falling bricks; she stood at her post while the blood streamed from her wounds until the roof had lost its flight and her room was a terrible scene of confusion and devastation. It being impossible to calm the frenzied children, Miss Medkirk had fled down stairs, presenting herself a pitiful spectacle to Mr. Sands, the principal, who till now was ignorant of the destruction above, and demanding his assistance, sped back to her charge. Mr. Sands was keeping the child in order down stairs, but hastened up; and upon presenting himself in the room, the little ones clasped him by the legs and body, and clung to him with the energy of despairing terror, shrieking to save them. Such a scene could not be portrayed by human language. A cloud of dust was whirling in the room; the tornado howled dismally overhead, bricks and the debris of the devastated building were flying about like tempest balls; and the poor children kept up agonizing choms of shrieks, so that it was impossible to determine the extent of their misery. By persuasion and earnest exertion of authority, Mr. Sands and Miss Medkirk restored their charge to some degree of composure, when he repaired to the adjoining rooms to render like assistance. Here were also scenes of wild disorder and dismay, but the teachers—Miss Josephine Medkirk, Miss Jackson, and Mr. Goss—discharged their trust faithfully, and were soon enabled to restore a degree of confidence to the terror stricken pupils. All the teachers in the house are said to have departed themselves courageously and with rare prudence.

He here follows a list of the children who were injured by the falling brick and debris when the building was unroofed. One poor woman, Mrs. Brown, dashed through the crowd, shouting crazily for her "Mickey." Mr. Sands assured her that he was safe. A little urchin, hard by, interposed, "No he ain't, he's killed; I saw his dead."

The poor woman gasped and seemed turned to stone. When she found her boy alive but wounded, she almost fell in a swoon. Other and similar incidents were narrated by eye-witnesses, but the reader can easily imagine the terrible agony of a parent's heart in such a trial. The reader will agree with us that it is wonderful that scores of children were not killed. There were seven hundred children in the building, and fifteen teachers.

W. H. LEWIS.—The following table gives a list of some of the provisions consumed during the convention week at the Tremont House by the hungry delegates. It will be plainly perceived, that in spite of the political excitement, their appetites were in tip-top order. But, for the list:

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,

Office in Union Passenger Depot.

NEW YORK, May 26.

The United States steam frigate Niagara is leaking badly. She came into port working all her pumps. Her powder has been stored on Ellis Island.

Some further important revelations have been made before the Coode committee at Washington. It appears that Atty. Gen. Black was deputed to tender the post office blank printing to Mr. Forney in case he would change his course. The profits of this job for Mr. Buchanan's term were estimated at $80,000. Mr. Forney, however, declined the proposition.

MEMPHIS, May 25th.

The steamer Red Wing, bound from Memphis to Settle Rock, was snatched and sunk yesterday at Smith's Cut-off. No lives lost.

WASHINGTON, May 25.

Several members of congress and their wives paid a formal visit to the Japanese today in accordance with previous arrangements. Messrs. Phillips & Solomon, booksellers, entertained them several hours in Willard's concert room with an exhibition of several specimens of drawings, paintings, and engravings, the most common of which excited their admiration, while the most costly and finely executed were scarcely noticed. The stereoscopic pictures, however, excited their wonder and admiration. This evening the principal Japanese dined with the president in company with the naval commission, members of the cabinet with their wives, and other invited guests to the number of about 38.

The receipts into the treasury during the past week were $1,181,000, an increase over the sum of laid in the previous week of $36,000. The amount subject to draft is $7,268,000.

All the opposition members of the Pennsylvania congressional delegation are heartily for the Chicago nominations, excepting one, who has not defined his position.

It was stated on good authority that Jno. Appleton, assistant Secretary of state, responded to by Mr. Tewksbury, regretting the misunderstanding which had occurred, renewing the invitation for another visit, and pledging a cordial and welcome reception.

Theodore Lewis, a nephew of E. Tappan, was drowned in Fourth lake. He had been out with a row boat and returned to shore, and started again with a sail. A communication from George Graham asking an extension of his license to sell liquor because the price was reduced soon after he paid, was received and referred to the license committee.

A communication from Tallman & Collier, G. R. Curtis, L. J. Barrows and Colwell & Co., druggists, representing that their sales of liquor were confined to medical and mechanical uses, and asking a reduction of the license fee, was referred to the license committee.

A communication from H. K. Whilton, attorney of W. Chase & Son, Buffalo, N. Y., asking payment of a balance of $625 due on purchase of furniture for the high school building by A. M. Pratt, was referred to the judiciary committee.

Ald. Tallman, from the finance committee, reported the bill of Police Justice Parker as correct, and recommended its payment so soon as there shall be money in the treasury to do so. Account placed on file.

A communication from J. A. Peckham, residing in the 3d ward of the city, representing that he had suffered loss of sheep from dogs belonging to residents of the town of Harmony, was referred to the judiciary committee.

A application from J. Pottinger for refunding a fine for selling liquor without license, was referred to the judiciary committee.

Ald. Smith reported that he had received four applications to keep the bridges of the city in repair for $2,50 per week. Referred to the bridge committee.

Ald. Shatto presented two school orders of $325 each, issued to Miss St. John, a teacher in the public schools, for confession of judgment. The motion to confess judgment was lost.

Adjourned.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday, while Mr. Rockwell Stone was working in a well belonging to R. Brown in the town of Lima, about 20 feet from the surface, the upper portion fell in upon him. He succeeded in raising himself from the mass of earth and stone which had fallen upon him, and was drawn up in the bucket attached to the well. Dr. Treat, of this city, was called to see him, and from him we learn that one knee was partially dislocated, his leg considerably bruised, and other injuries not of a serious character sustained. Mr. Stone is a poor hand-working man, and the only reliance of a family for support was upon his labor.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—We learned that two men belonging to Wm. H. Tripp, of the town of Rock, was killed by lightning during the storm Thursday morning.

NORTON.—Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of Rockfield, Ill., will preach in the Baptist church tomorrow evening and evening.

Another huge supply of the debates between Lincoln and Douglas has been received at Newell's bookstore.

FREE LIVES.—S. W. Shashesky, having removed his saloon to the next door south of Mr. Hutton's shoe store, will give a free lunch on Monday morning next. His friends and citizens generally are invited to be present.

BLACKWELL.—About 10 or 11 o'clock last evening, while the watchman of Mansfield & Land's barrel factory was filling his lamp for the night, some person threw a stone through the window, which passed across the room, barely missing the head of the watchman. Such villainy should not go unpunished.

THE CUT WOMAN.—This pest of the garden may be destroyed if the following remedy is effective:

Dr. Armstrong, Clinton county, Indiana, writes that the cut worm can be effectively destroyed by making two or three holes in ground, near a plant, from five to eight inches deep, an inch or more in diameter, with a sharp pointed stick, into which the worms will crawl after committing their depredations never again to commit.

AN HONEST RASCAL.—The notes which we mentioned as being stolen by burglars two weeks ago, from Mr. Webb, were sent back through the mail last Monday. The letter was mailed at Door Village, Indiana, and read as follows:

POSTMASTER.—Dear Sir: You will oblige me by returning the notes to their owner.

There is evidently some honor in "Doe-sticks," burglar though he is, and would be guided by his better nature, return what he has stolen, and take up some honest business, he might still become useful and happy, instead of being a curse to himself and community.—Albany Times.

Dogs are said to "speak with their tails." Would it not be proper to call a short-tailed dog a "stump orator."

The Chicago Press and Tribune speaks in the highest terms of Fields' Rotating Machine, which was recently put into operation at that place. It proved entirely successful on trial, and Mr. Fields is now making preparations for manufacturing his plow at Chicago.—Bethel Journal.

We have repeatedly examined that machine and are familiar with the principles upon which it works, and believe it is a good thing. It will be worth the trouble for farmers and others visiting Beloit to call at Merrill's machine shop and see it. The enterprising investor, Mr. Fields, has undoubtedly devised an important implement for the western country. May he make his fortune.—Bethel Journal.

"Heenan Butter" is the latest novelty down east, so called because it is so strong.

The novelty was long since worn out, in the west, and it is a very common article in our market now-a-days.

GALVA AND CHICAGO UNION RAIL ROAD.

MESSRS. ERRORS.—An impression has gone abroad that in consequence of the G. & C. U. R. R. Co.'s trains not running to Janesville, we are unable to do your business on competing terms with the Chicago and Northwestern road. This is a mistake. If the business man of Janesville will order their goods delivered to the G. & C. U. R. R., at Chicago, they will come through on the same terms as over the Northwestern; and all goods and produce delivered to the Mil. & Miss. R. R., at Janesville, will be shipped on the same terms as over the Northwestern road.

While this demands that you should insure their money, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment.
